

ACT/SAT Prep Classes at Gray Stone

As a new set of standardized testing dates approach, Gray Stone would like to announce that it will offer an in-person course in ACT and SAT preparation. Led by the school's AP English Literature teacher, Andrew Hodges, this course will familiarize students with the exams, teach them effective test-taking strategies, and help them to further hone the math, reading, and writing skills that the tests are designed to assess. The classes will meet at Gray Stone on four successive days (Monday, June 13 - Thursday, June 16) from 10:00 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.

If you would like to sign-up for this course, please fill out the registration form below, and return it to the Gray Stone office in an envelope with $250 made payable to Andrew Hodges. This price includes an instructional text and diagnostic and practice tests, but students will be asked to bring a notebook, calculator, pencils, and scrap paper. Though not required, an internet-capable laptop computer or tablet will also be helpful. Registrations must be received by Friday, June 3, but enrollment in the class will be subject to availability and interest, so please sign up early to ensure that you reserve a place. Once registered, parents and students will receive confirmatory email messages.

N.B. Andrew Hodges was a high school math teacher for three years before earning his Master's degree in English. He has taught AP English courses at Gray Stone for the last fifteen years, and has been a standardized test preparation instructor for twenty years. If you have any questions, he can be reached via email: ahodges@graystoneday.org.

Mr. Hodges will also offer a separate set of ACT and SAT prep classes on Saturdays in the fall.

Please print clearly in the spaces below, cut at the line, and return the lower portion of this sheet with your payment.
