A Note About Early Semester Grades:

As we begin the second semester, please note that grade books are still being populated with assignments. With only a few grades recorded, averages may appear lower than expected or fluctuate significantly—this is completely normal at this stage.

As more work is completed throughout the semester, grades will stabilize and become a more accurate reflection of your student's performance. We encourage you to view early semester grades as a work in progress. Teachers will reach out if there are any significant concerns.

Thank you for your patience and partnership this semester.

KNIGHT OF THE WEEK:

Zachary Rodriguez

Zachary Rodriguez showed outstanding character this week when someone accidentally spilled the contents of their lunchbox on the floor. While others rushed by, he chose to stop and help clean it up. Zachary stayed until the area was completely clean, even though it was not his responsibility. His kindness and respect for others and our school are a true representation of a Gray Stone Knight.
